This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Essay from the year 2006 in the subject English - Literature, Works, grade: B+, University of Paderborn, course: Literary Topographies: New York, language: English, abstract: For the purpose of a contribution to the critical text volume of the Afro-American diaspora, 'Brown Girl, Brownstones' is read as a Bildungsroman, rather than an ethnic study, whereas certain terms of sociological discourse pertaining to class, gender and race are elaborated upon. The novel concerns the first generation Barbadian-American girl Selina Boyce, who grows up in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn during the Depression and the Second World War. Exploring the immigrant experience of Selina's family through two major narrative strands, whereas the first primarily treats her parents' domestic conflict and the second is devoted to the protagonist's coming of age, the novel is held together by the artful depiction of New York City topographies. Whereas Selina's consciousness is primarily defined by the atmosphere of the city, her parent's attitudes are still influenced in various ways by their past childhood on the Caribbean islands. The family's search for a new home in the urban north of the United States is traced by highlighting the architectural metaphors of New York City in the novel. Special consideration is given to the beautiful Bed-Stuy brownstone story houses,...
